Geocaching Description

Geocaching is a treasure hunting game using navigation skills. There is an online group that has a record of different caches located all over the world. The caches have different difficulty levels on the website, so that you can look for a cache that is on your skill level. Once you have located the cache, open it up and sign the log. There may be small items in the cache, and the rule is if you take an item then you must leave an item of equal value.
